Principal's Message

GEORGE HIGGINBOTTOM

IF you are to get the most out of living and at the same time contribute your maximum to the welfare of others, you should develop aims or goals in life that are designed to accomplish those ends. Those goals will serve to direct your efforts and to lay the basis of your appreciation of the good in life. The formulation of goals, therefore, is the intelligent way for you to direct your efforts and, hence, your life.

It is well to remember that the ability or inability to attain your established goals does not necessarily mean success or failure. We are all victims of circumstances over which we have no control and which play an important role in the materialization of our plans. Nevertheless, you have control over your attitudes—the ability to make necessary changes, determinations, enthusiasm, ambition, initiative—which, when controlled, appraised, and properly redirected, provide the momentum essential for the plans outlined. More particularly, happiness is a goal which can be realized by any individual; for it is accomplished by showing a real interest in others, acquiring friends with genuine sincerity, participating in activities as a worthwhile citizen—ever cognizant of the ideals which have made this country great. Therefore, the highest purpose in real living is then, to discover and develop yourself and to find happiness and satisfaction in the contribution which you can make to the general welfare of mankind.

Director's Message

DONALD MOORE

IN March, 1943, the people of Belmont voted to establish and maintain state-aided vocational education in the Town of Belmont. The following September the Belmont Vocational High School was established, the primary purpose of which is to fit pupils for profitable employment and for good citizenship.

The school is set up on a general vocational basis offering diversified shop training in the following fields: automotive repair, cabinetmaking, electrical wiring, radio work, welding and sheet metal work.

The school day is divided between shop work, related work, and academic work. Fifty percent of the day is spent in the shop on productive work. Approximately twenty-five percent of the time is spent on related subjects and approximately twenty-five percent on academic subjects and physical education.

A work experience policy has been approved by the schoolboard whereby a student in good standing may enter industry upon approval of his parents and at the discretion of the director during regular school hours for a maximum of fifteen days (three weeks) per school year. While training on the job, a student may receive compensation for this experience. In his senior year a boy may enter industry as early as April 1, provided that he is in good standing in his class.

Vocational courses are not necessarily terminal. After graduation from the Vocational High School, advanced training may be received in Evening Trade Extension Courses offered by the Massachusetts State Department of Vocational Education and various engineering schools. For the student who is industrious, sincere, and willing to work, his future possibilities in the vocational field are unlimited.

High School years are so important!

At the end of this period, the mold for the pattern of the future has become pretty well set.

And so, I say to the Mid-Century Sophomore Class of 1950, let's work together to set up a good pattern, to have an outstanding class and, consequently, outstanding citizens of the future in whatever fields you choose to conquer.

THE Belmontian Club has experienced a very successful year under the capable leadership of its officers. Sona Haidostian, chairman of the Program Committee, secured some fine entertainment for this large group whose membership totaled about two hundred girls, while Paula Roche proved to be an excellent chairman of the Refreshment Committee.

We were very fortunate to have with us at our first meeting two fine speakers. Mrs. June Mitchell, head of the dramatic group at Emerson College, spoke to us on dramatics and Connie Clark, a former president of the Belmontian Club, gave us a heart-to-heart talk on the meaning and purpose of the Belmontian Club.

Initiation of new members was held at a candlelight ceremony followed by entertainment from within the club.

We were fortunate in obtaining such excellent speakers as Miss Jenny K. Dunn of the Katharine Gibbs School who spoke on "Career Girl 1950", and Mr. Russell Curry, whose helpful hints on etiquette were thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by all.

The Club was successful in presenting two fashion shows. The models? Why our own Belmontians!! The first was a parade of beautiful old-fashioned costumes. This was made possible through the kindness of Mrs. Thomas Griggs, who planned and directed the show and from whose collection the costumes were taken. The second was the annual tea and fashion show for mothers, sponsored by the Club itself.

The social highlight of the year was the never-to-be-forgotten Belmontian Formal, which was given in December.

LAST June, thirteen outstanding students of the Class of 1950 were elected to the National Honor Society, and in the fall another dozen were initiated, to bring the membership to just twenty-five. Living up to their qualities of Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service, the members took an active part in senior activities.

In conjunction with the Student Council and the Forum Club, a committee investigated a possible extension of student government power. On January twentieth, to raise money for the annual Comery Scholarship, the Society presented the three-act comedy, "Belvedere", starring Bob Savage in the role popularized by Clifton Webb in the motion picture version, "Sitting Pretty". Tom Price was cast as a snoopy neighbor named Appleton, and Betty Ahlquist and Fred Paulsen were cast as the parents of two rather unmanageable brats, Harold Hunter and Dick Dickhaut. Peggy Rowe, James Hekimian, Betty Chamberlain, James Brine, and Barbara Johnson completed the cast. Extra features initiated at the performance of "Belvedere" were a loud-speaker system to pick up every word on stage and an on-the-spot broadcast of the crucial basketball game at Winchester for the benefit of the play-goers. The cast journeyed to Murphy General Hospital for a repeat performance the following week.

The Society members are grateful to Mr. MacCloskey for his excellent direction of the play and to faculty adviser, Mr. Meyers, for his interest and assistance in the execution of club projects.

JHANKS to the direction of Mr. Brulé and the leadership of president Barbara Dow, the Art Club's second year has proved to be a very pleasant and successful one. One of our most pleasurable meetings was held on November second, when some interesting slides, illustrating art work done by boys and girls from all over the world, were shown by Mr. Brulé. At our second meeting we saw an informative sound film, "Drawing with a Pencil", which demonstrated the techniques of pencil drawing. Another entertaining time was had in March, when Paula Whiting spoke to the club about ceramics and her studies in the Museum Art School, displayed several pieces of pottery which she had made and displayed. After the meeting, coke and doughnuts were served. In the spring, the club visited several art schools in Boston, where the members enjoyed themselves and gained a great deal of valuable information.

The members of the Art Club wish to thank Mr. Brulé for helping to make this year so profitable and pleasant.

ORGANIZED in November, the Circulo Espanol began its activities with a Christmas party that delighted all its members. Two other Modern Language Clubs joined in the program. Since the three clubs considered this party so successful, they decided to make it an annual feature.

Another very interesting meeting in January was held jointly with the French Club. Shep Ginandes entertained the clubs with a varied selection of folk songs in Spanish, French, and English.

At the School Exhibit in April a talented group of volunteer singers demonstrated their ability to delight an audience by singing a number of Puerto Rican and Mexican songs. The lively and happy tempo of these "canciones" was appreciated by everyone.

It is the purpose of the Spanish Club to stimulate keener interest in the language and culture of Spain and Spanish America. The meetings of the Club are held primarily to make the members aware of the important cultural and historical role played by the Hispanic world. Our thanks go to Mr. Solano, whose skilled guidance has made this year one "con mucho gusto".

"MAGNIFIQUE" is the sincere sentiment of all the members of the French Club concerning the delightful programs presented under the President Martha Bliss and the officers.

The successful year started with an interesting and informative talk by Miss Graciella Torres, President of the Wellesley College French Club, who spoke of her junior year in France. At the second meeting, colored movies taken last summer in France were shown. We admired the beauty of Savoie and its exquisite scenery. One of our most memorable meetings was the Christmas party attended by all the Modern Language Clubs. Groups sang carols in each language. The highlight of the show came when Lois French sang beautifully "Cantique de Noel". Both the French and Spanish Clubs were present when Shep Ginandes, accompanying himself on his guitar, sang folk songs in the two languages, as well as in English.

At the spring meetings, students from France who were spending the year in American high schools or colleges, were our guests and speakers.

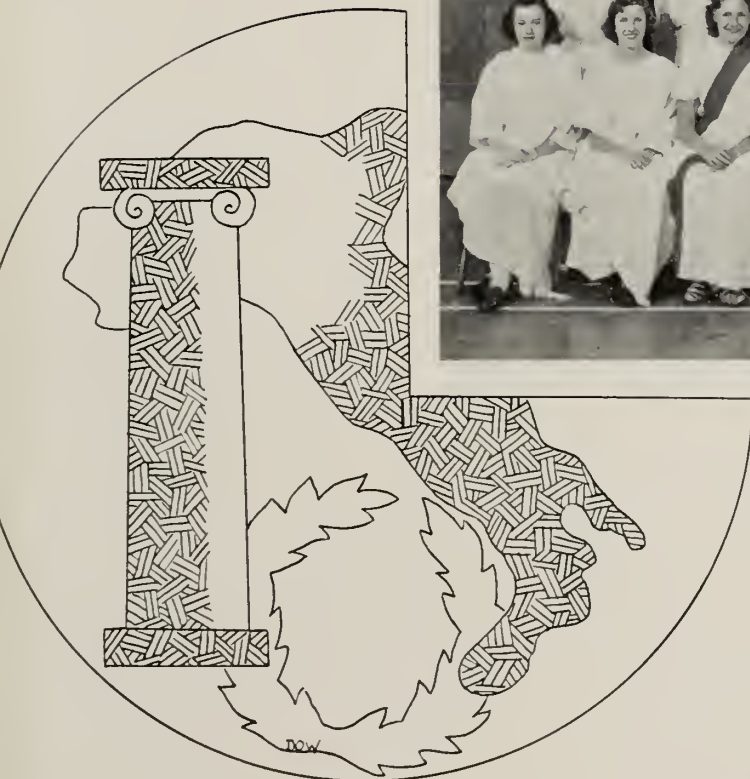

The club presented a photographic trip through France at the school exhibit in April. In May, again in conjunction with the German and Spanish clubs, members took part in a program of music and dance.

WITH due ceremony, the Latin Club started off the year by formally installing officers. This installation was conducted in Latin, with twenty-one officials impressively attired in the traditional togas. Under the able direction of Miss Steuerwald and the careful planning of the Aediles, interesting meetings were held monthly. Mr. Auciello and Miss Wriston of the Fine Arts Museum were among the speakers, and music was supplied throughout the year by the Vestals and other talented members. At the Saturnalia meeting at Christmas, "Astrum," a short play in Latin, was performed, followed by the singing of Latin Christmas carols. Summa continued to help in the support of a school in Greece. All in all, it was another successful year.

THE Dramatic Club enjoyed a very successful year under the capable direction of Mr. MacCloskey and the officers. Eighty aspiring Thespians auditioned to become members of the Club. The interesting tryouts in the fall ranged from pantomimes through monologues and skits to an Arthur Godfrey show complete with singing. Several one-act plays entertained the members during the winter. The quality of a few of the radio skits performed by the students with little or no rehearsal decreased somewhat during the year, but Mr. MacCloskey's decisive criticism brought about a revival of enthusiasm in the Club. Finally, a professional monologist presented a very entertaining program to complete the year.

Nineteen Fifty's big project was the production of "Little Women" in April by the Dramatic Club, sponsored by the P.T.A. Council. This presentation was the third of the P.T.A. Council's annual series. The able cast, including Judy Troy as Joe, Dorothy O'Brien as Meg, Jody Johnson as Amy, Sona Haidostian as Beth, Sheila O'Leary as Marmee, John Hunter as Laurie, Charles Paskerian as Mr. Brooke, Richard Fogg as Professor Baer, Kathryn Shohl as Aunt March, and William Swentor as Mr. March (father), presented a professional type of performance. Congratulations to Mr. "Mac" and the members of the Dramatic Club for their many fine achievements in 1950.

The Band

FIRST ROW: W. Butler, P. Brentlinger, R. Cusolito (President), M. Keane, R. Williams, N. Anderson (Librarian), J. Gianino.

THE Band consists of eighteen members: Robert Cusolito, Miriam Williams, Shirley Glazier, Susan Dyer, and Dominic Micale playing the trumpet; Rodney Mosher, Richard Norris, Otto Payonzeck, Victor Minchillo, and Robert Loomer playing the drum; Robert Williams playing the trombone; Barbara Brigham playing the French horn; Natalie Anderson playing the bell lyre; Dorothy Sutherland, Herbert Kohler, Roy Cummings, Martin Liberman, and Ann Brentlinger playing the clarinet.

Among the highlights of the football season were the half-time exhibitions presented by our well-drilled bandmen. The intricate formations initiated for the first time this year included the "The Old Gray Mare", the pierced Valentine-type heart, the lacing of the football, the Grandfather's Clock Act, the conventional Belmont "B", and finally a buzzing airplane that taxied slowly off the field under the power of four baton propellers. This last act climaxed Mr. Nettleton's enjoyable performances during the football season. At the Tech Tourney, the Band added to the Belmont High School spirit with appropriate selections and with cheer accompaniments.

The Belmont High School Band played admirably, not only on the football field and basketball court, but also at the holiday concert programs.

The Band's Spring Concert, introducing "The Grasshopper's Dance", and the concert at Graduation exercises brought to a close a season characterized with vast improvements over previous years and with the outlook of a future band that Belmont students will always hold in esteem.

ON September 21st amid the clamoring of some one hundred and seventy prospective members, the Music Club held its first meeting. Under the auspices of President Lucille Levis and adviser Miss Anderson, the group was initiated into the functions and future plans of the Club. The prospect of staging a vaudeville show brought out added enthusiasm.

At the second meeting on December 6th, members of the Club combined to present a Christmas program, which proved to be a program of sufficient talent for the vaudeville show. Outstanding were the Gilmore twins' thundering rendition of "Malaguena" at the piano, John "Contino" Harman's slick arrangements on the accordion, and the incomparable vocalizing of Cunningham, Mahaney, and Swaebe.

On December 8, a delegation from the club attended a concert of modern music at B. U.'s Hayden Memorial Auditorium. Jazz authority and radio announcer, Nat Henstoff, introduced Nat Pierce with his band; the college men of the Crimson Stompers with Vic Dickinson and his trombone; Frankie Newton with his trumpet, two vocalists, and his own band, a six-piece bop ensemble with Nat Pierce at the piano and Charlie Mariano on the saxophone.

With so many interested and talented members, as well as a willing group of officers, it turned out to be a busy season for the Music Club.

This year's Glee Club, once again under the able direction of Mr. Nettleton, was one of the largest in the history of Belmont High School. A new seating arrangement was tried out quite successfully. Seniors were seated next to lowerclass members in order to acquaint the latter with the Club.

At Christmas, our Glee Club gave its annual Christmas Concert. "The Story of Christmas" was sung by the Glee Club with the aid of soloists Ruth Brown and Judith Thompson, narrated by students in Mr. MacCloskey's Speech Arts Class, and illustrated with a tableaux by the members of Mr. Brulé's Art Classes. The faculty and student body were truly impressed with the splendid work of the Club.

The Glee Club of 1949-1950 wishes Mr. Nettleton unprecedented success.

As always, the Student Council's big project was the sponsoring of the fine educational and entertaining assemblies presented throughout the year. The varied programs included an amazing scientific demonstration by Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Hanson of General Motors; food-health movies by Mr. Roetzel; and appearances by the brilliant radio violinist, Alfredo Cavaleri; the personable and amusing etiquette expert, Mr. Russell Curry, and Captain James Coletta, formerly of the U. S. Military Intelligence Service.

At football games, the busy Student Council members were the indispensable salesmen of programs and, in their homerooms, of tickets to school functions; and they assisted with collections for such worthy charities as the March of Dimes and the Salvation Army. The Council joined the members of the Forum Club and the National Honor Society in an investigation of greater power in student government, and with the Yearbook Staff, it sponsored the once-in-a-lifetime Mid-Centennial Costume Ball on January seventh.

Much of the credit for the success of the Student Council must go to Mr. Kolouch for his invaluable guidance throughout the year.

THE Forum Club has enjoyed a successful and well-rounded year under the able direction of its officers and Miss Anderson, adviser.

A lively debate was held on October 11 entitled: "Is B.H.S. Student Government Adequate?" The participants included Dick Harris, James Hekimian, and Charles Parsons. As an outgrowth of the meeting, a committee to study student government was formed by President Sullivan. This committee held a number of meetings throughout the year exploring the subject.

Many interesting talks were given during the year. Mr. C. F. Mosteller, a statistical expert from Harvard, spoke on Polls. Mrs. William Siffin of the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Association discussed the Town Manager Plan. Mr. Conrad Brant, research fellow from Harvard, gave a talk on China.

In February a debate, "Should 18 year olds have the right to vote," was held. Speakers were Joan Mahoney, Kathryn Shohl, Richard Fogg, and Joseph Nix.

At the annual school exhibit held on April 13, the Club presented a model town meeting. Charles Parsons, Joseph Sullivan, Bradford Atwood, and Philip Swaebe debated the topic: "Does Belmont Need the Town Manager Plan."

On April 25, the Club played host to the Periclean Forum Club of Arlington. The topic, "Would a Federal World Government Insure World Peace", was ably and profitably discussed. So concluded a year of club activity in which members had an opportunity to participate in significant discussions and to acquire new information.

The Publication Club

SECOND ROW: M. Laviano, J. Drew, J. O'Leary, D. Gaffey, N. Darling, M. Attridge, C. Bryant, J. Troy, J. Brannen, R. Burns, S. Haidostian.

FOURTH ROW: B. Taschioglou, R. Harris, E. Coyne, J. Brine, F. Paulsen, C. Kimball, R. Fogg.

NOT far behind the turmoil of the opening of school, and with equally as much hubbub, the "49-50" Star Staff put out its first edition. Under the editing of James Hekimian, the manuscript proved to be a well qualified runner-up to those of previous years.

However, the second issue really made the staff "burst their buttons." Six printed pages not only made its editors and writers proud as punch but also pleased the student body. With this record to stand on, a capable staff, ambitious editor, and with enough gossip to keep Jinx wondering, the issues came fast and furious.

Ruth Brown, Ruth Burns, Nancy Darling, Barbara Johnson, James Brine, Richard Harris, James Hekimian, Fred Paulsen, Robert Savage, and Joseph Sullivan went to one of three high school editors' parties given by the "Globe" at the Copley Plaza Ballroom. The speakers were Sumner Pike, acting director of the Atomic Energy Commission; Mr. Davidson, an official of Edison Company; and Mr. Salisbury, information director of the Atomic Energy Commission. Mr. Otto Zausmer, Globe columnist, served as moderator. After a lively question period, refreshments were served.

Sports editor Sullivan's interesting write-ups, varying features under the guidance of Barbara Johnson, and the ever laughable dialect of Salty, to name a few things which kept the public busy, certainly made a successful year for the paper and everyone concerned. Our thanks to Miss Magee and Mr. Shipp for their advice and counsel.

THE year 1950 marked the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Bookworms Club. The first meeting of the year was held to elect officers. The guest of honor was Bert Mullaney, president of the Club in 1948 and brother of the present president.

Members of the Club and guests presented several interesting skits. The highlight of the meeting was a tie between an enormous anniversary cake elaborately decorated for the occasion and Bert's singing. It was difficult to say which was enjoyed most. At four-thirty, we sang together "Should Old Acquaintance be Forgotten", and Miss Ames, adviser, sent us home with a happy feeling of renewed friendships. Altogether, it was a pleasant afternoon.

Since 1940 when the Club was founded, it has grown from nineteen members to forty-six members. Through the ten years that the Club has existed, it has purchased between three and four hundred books with the dues paid.

The purpose of the Club is to enable its members to purchase the latest books as soon as they become available. As you can see by the titles of the following books, the Club has lived up to its purpose of acquiring recent books: "The Greatest Story Ever Told" by Fulton Oursler, "Aunt Bel" by Guy McCrone, "The Running Thread" by Drayton Mayrant, "Especially Father" by Gladys Taber, "West of the Hill" by Gladys Carroll, "Swiftwater" by Paul Annixter, "Until the Day Break" by Sallie Belle, "The Firebrand" by George Challis, "The Enduring Hills" by Janice Giles, and "Room For One More" by Anna Rose.

The Home Economics Club

President: Mary Crowley
Vice-President: Claire Grant
Program Chairman: Marcia Sullivan
Secretary-treasurer: Cynthia Sylvia

THE successful year of the Home Economics Club started off with the election of officers. At the second meeting, program chairman Marcia Sullivan presented two speakers from the New Haven Railroad. Mrs. Albert from the Academie Modern gave the members many pointers on modeling and hygiene. During an extra period, the Club saw a movie on the art of modern cake baking. On Washington's Birthday, despite a severe snowstorm, some fifteen of the members enjoyed an evening of rollerskating at the Bal-A-Rou Rollerway. Another activity of the Club was a talent show. Elaine Grant and Esther Crosby did an Irish jig; Betty and Barbara Gilmore played the piano; Margaret Pennino accompanied Ruth Brown who sang "My Hero" and "Through the Years"; Irene Milona did a novelty act, and Margaret Pennino played the popular songs requested by the audience.

More than fifty girls showed off their handiwork in the fashion show in February. Jean Hannigan modeled her dressing gown of quilted taffy satin. Barbara Brigham designed and sewed a blue-and-pink iridescent taffeta dress. Betty Moore and Cynthia Sylvia made plaid taffeta skirts. Perhaps the biggest hits of the show were the ruffled flannel nightgown Margie MacNabb wore and the identical red corduroy overalls made by announcer Nancy Oteri and modeled by her two tiny nieces. Lucille Levis' white brocade evening gown provided a breathtaking close. Congratulations to our excellent designers, seamstresses, and models.

THE Junior Red Cross Club, one of the largest in the school, has completed another successful year under the capable leadership of Miss Loring and Miss Richmond.

One of the girls' favorite projects was making favors for the many surrounding hospitals. Thanksgiving Day favors for the Veterans' Hospital were small Puritan hats containing cigarettes. The Christmas project was little candy favors for the Children's Hospital. Many Christmas boxes were also filled for destitute children in foreign countries. Later, charming little 'thank-you' notes in various foreign tongues came from the children who had received these boxes.

One of the most worthwhile projects of the year was the dressing of dolls and the making of scrapbooks to be given as gifts of welcome to the children of Displaced Persons when first they arrive in America. The girls vied with one another to make the dolls attractive; the scrapbooks were both pretty and useful, for they were designed to acquaint the little newcomers with our language.

During the year, Club members worked on oil cloth animals which also were for

WITH only the cooperation of the weather needed, the Ski Club finished another great year with everyone still in one piece. The Club, with an enrollment of seventy-six members, was capably led this year by its officers and Mr. Lloyd Smith, adviser.

Through the efforts of Alan Benger, program committee chairman, many interesting meetings were arranged. Mr. Osborne, local ski authority, gave a very interesting talk on the care of equipment.

A movie that was enjoyed for its inspiring winter scenery was "The Case". The setting of this very lively film was Sun Valley, the winter sports mecca of the United States. The old master, Hans Schneider himself, was pursued by a score of expert skiers, but after eluding them all in a grueling hour chase, Schneider was caught by none other than a five year old neophyte. Two other movies were "Nations of Skiers", an instructional film, and "Skiing down the Alps", an interesting and helpful beginners' movie.

Although there were no officially organized bus trips to the ski areas, small groups of members motored or availed themselves of the Boston and Maine Snowtrains and spent many of their weekends on the New Hampshire and Vermont slopes.

A Belmont High School Ski Club member is easily identified by a colorful and neat Club emblem available at a nominal price.

THE Photography Club was organized in October under the able sponsorship of Mr. Clish. The aim of the members was to learn more about the technical side of the picture-taking process. The first meeting consisted of learning the fundamentals of developing. Later meetings included direction in printing techniques and field trips to develop composition techniques.

The students spent many enjoyable extracurricular hours of activity working in the darkroom, and afterward discussed the results with fellow shutterbugs.

The dark room has been in constant use since the Club was organized. The main interest of the members lay primarily in getting new and original shots, and then making the finished product themselves.

The Club designed their own membership cards and then Mr. Clish photographed and printed them.

The most successful meeting of the year was a field trip in the vicinity of the High School. The members concentrated on making well-known scenes into pictures of striking interest. The results were well worth the effort, and the pictures taken that day are good proof of the skill of our photographers.

All in all the members were interested in the work and cooperated to make a well organized and successful club.

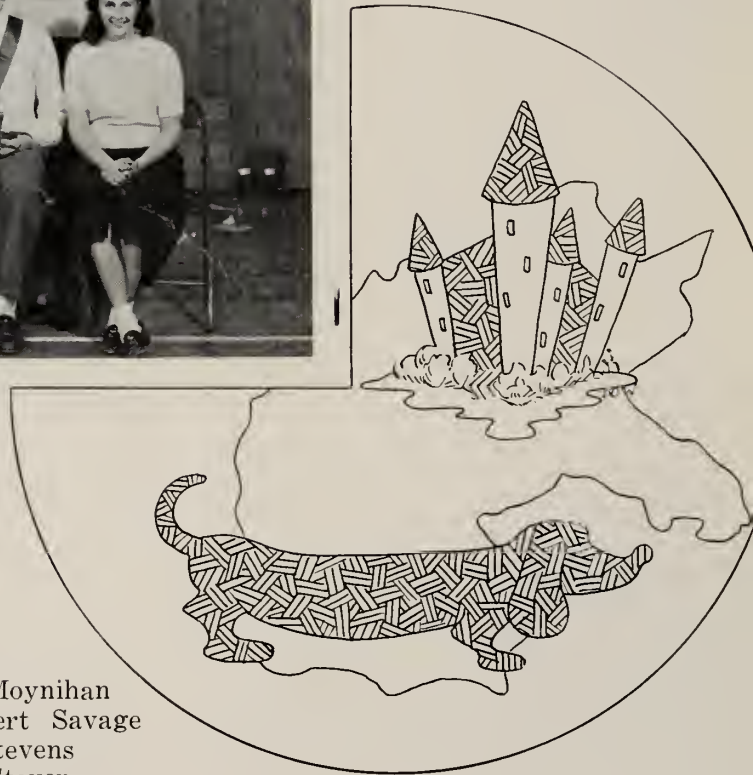

The Dachshunde Club

FIRST ROW: J. Bok, R. Carlson, R. Savage (Vice-President), R. Moynihan (President), M. Stevens (Secretary-Treasurer), A. Taber.

THIRD ROW: R. Drolette, R. Flynn, W. Taft, H. Kohler, T. Price.

THE "Dachshunde Verein" has completed another successful year under the leadership of able officers. The activities of the club were guided and supervised by Miss Dorntee as faculty adviser.

In early October there was the election of officers. Soon afterward a new club constitution was adopted, and in the school corridors one saw initiation antics of our new members.

In February, there was a combination Valentine and Bon Voyage party for Joyce Bok, who soon afterwards left for Africa.

Later in the spring Mrs. Angelika Forsberg, a German teacher who had escaped Hitler's Germany before the war, was invited to speak to the club and to describe some of her experiences and life and customs in Germany when she was in school. An Easter musicale was also planned with the other language clubs, in which we located plenty of home talent for another joint meeting.

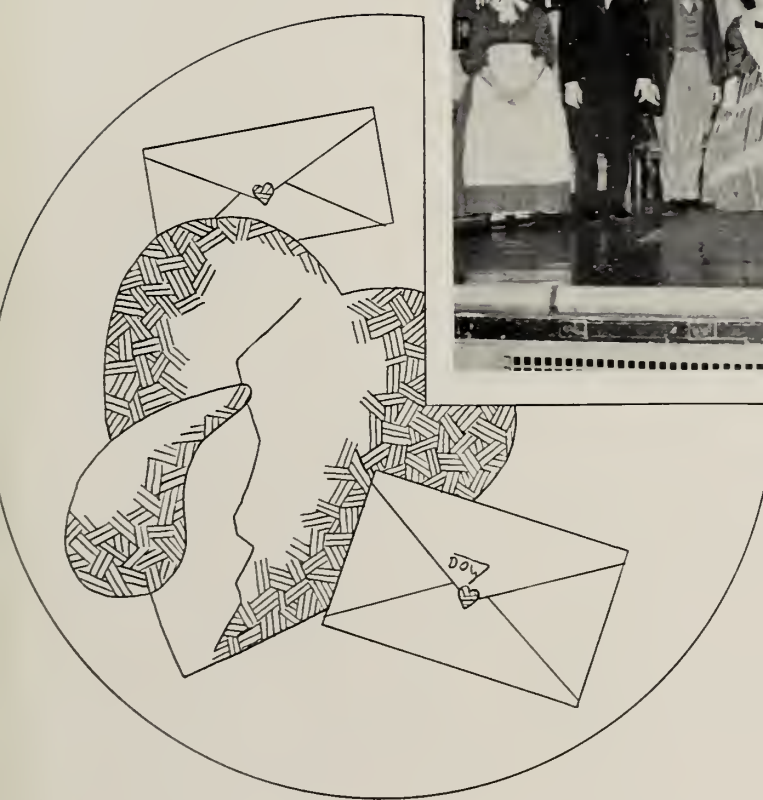

At the Exhibition held in April it was the Dachshunde Verein that gave a truly foreign atmosphere with its Rathskeller setting and the singing of the famous Schnitzelbank song.

All members agree that the Dachshunde Verein has provided opportunities not only for entertainment, but also for a better understanding of Germany, its people and its language.

The Senior Play

A CAST handsomely costumed in hoopskirts, bonnets, waistcoats, and sideburns presented a polished production of "The Barretts", as the senior class play, at the High School, Friday, November 18. Talented Carol Bryant brought to the role of Elizabeth a warm and sensitive interpretation, and Charles Paskerian as Browning handled well a difficult part. A pleasant surprise was gifted Helen Milas, who emerged as a beautiful and charming Henrietta. Perfectly cast were John Comerford as Captain Surtees Cook, Henrietta's persevering beau, and Tom Price as younger brother Octavius. Frank Dunnington made a very dashing George Barrett and Robert Miller a most distinguished-looking John Kenyon. Elizabeth's handmaid, Wilson, was tartly portrayed by Lucille Levis. Good in supporting roles were Nancy Oteri, Jan Parker, and Sheila O'Leary. And overshadowing all the others was the impressive performance of Robert Savage as the tyrannical Barrett. Our hat is off to Mr. MacCloskey for a superb job of casting and directing, and to the cast for a great performance.

FIRST ROW: V. Barbuto, L. M. Conlon, K. Merk, N. Berringer, B. Johnson, J. Parker.

THIRD ROW: R. Scarfo, C. Pappas, M. Stevens, P. Redmond, R. Savage, R. Watson.

THE Belmont Woman's Club aims to broaden and strengthen the moral, intellectual and social life of its members and the community. Each year, by awarding honorary membership cards to ten outstanding junior girls of the High School, the Club advances its purpose. In 1949, Vilma Barbuto, Norma Berringer, Betty Chamberlain, Lilla May Conlon, Barbara Dow, Sona Haidostian, Barbara Johnson, Katharine Merk, Helen Milas and Jan Parker were admitted into the Club as honorary members with all the privileges of the Club. Through these girls, the Club holds an active interest in the activities of the High School. It awards two hundred dollars in scholarships every spring and maintains a scholarship loan fund for students. Besides sponsoring an annual essay contest and promoting the school exhibit every two years, the Club arranges many moneymaking affairs to raise the means for its scholarships. Thus, the Belmont Woman's Club maintains its high standing in the community.

The Rotary Club of Belmont, through its Junior Rotarian movement, strives each year to instill the ideal of "Service above Self" in the minds of eight senior boys from the student body. It is their hope that these boys in turn will convey this standard of Rotary to their classmates.

The eight boys who represented the high school at Rotary meetings, James Hekimian, Albert Marsh, Charles Pappas, Paul Redmond, Robert Savage, Richard Scarfo, Millard Stevens, and Richard Watson wish to give their sincere thanks to the members in charge of the youth movement and all the other members of Rotary from whom they have acquired invaluable ideas and aid throughout the school year.

The Basketball Team

UPSETTING even the most optimistic predictions, this year's outstanding basketball squad reached the Tech Tourney and went on to the finals, only to lose to a highly favored Fairhaven High 64-43. Previously the Red and Blue had drubbed two Eastern Massachusetts' power-houses, Rockland and Braintree, 52-43 and 45-39.

The backbone of the team was, that midwestern basketball wizard, Dick Watson who, with his total of 412 points for the year (a new B.H.S. record), more than carried the load for the Wennermen. Dick was also the scoring leader of the Middlesex League with 233 points. Another distinction, was his new Boston Garden foul shooting record, set in the second game of the Tech Tournament with Braintree when he sank 11 foul shots.

Walter Nelson did a grand job at center with 216 points for the year. Assisting Watson at the other forward position, was diminutive Dick Collier. Wenner had two reliable guards in Albert Marsh and Millard Stevens. Stevens figured greatly in the Belmont offense as his 97 points attest.

Not to be overlooked for their valuable assistance were the nine following reserve men: Mike Polese, Paul Redmond, John Green, John Caruso, Lindsay Walker, John Carmichael, Harold McElroy, Franny Gillis, and Bill Corey.

After a shaky start, no doubt caused by the rugged schedule of three preliminary games with Class A powers, Belmont found its true form. The Middlesex League was definitely not a soft circuit this season as the majority of the schools boasted of veteran squad. Belmont, for the third successive year, took first place with a 12-2 record.

Dick Collier and Mike Polese have been elected co-captains for 1951. Next year's squad has all the earmarks of another championship club as indicated by this year's standout Junior Varsity squad.

COACH WENNER

Wenner

Girls' Tennis Team

FOR the past two years, Belmont High has had an undefeated team in tennis. This year they were fortunate in having two veterans from last year's team, Suzanne Boyle and Pat Mullaney, who have shown remarkable talent on the courts. Ann Lynch and Janet Drew have given the team a big boost having been subs for last year's team.

The newcomers are all sophomores: Marylee Boyle, Gracia Parkhill, Pat Sullivan and Genevra Osborn. Among the teams played was a strong Winchester and Melrose team, but not strong enough. We have had a very successful team this year and with Miss Smith coaching them again next year they cannot lose. Congratulations.

The Baseball Team

THIS season's edition of baseball at Belmont High seems to be certain of capturing another Middlesex League championship. Sparked by many veteran performers, Coach Harris' squad should go through the season with one of the best records in recent years.

A veteran infield includes Paul Redmond and Albert Marsh. Harold Bellis, Ralph Pecora, and Joe Crotty, three experienced flychasers, are the backbone of the outfield. Phil Gogan, Bob Donahue, Joe Gerace, Lindsay Walker, and Dick Santangelo comprise the pitching staff. Capable Franny Gillis is behind the plate.

The Football Team

WITH an eight game schedule that included two Class A and three Class B teams, Belmont's 1949 football team finished the season with a 3-4-1 record. The boys did not really get rolling until the latter half of the season when both Dedham and Winchester were decisively defeated. The year was dramatically climaxed with the Thanksgiving Game when Belmont lost a one-pointer, 14-13, in what Belmont fans regarded as more than a "moral victory."

The team play of the backfield was excellent.

An able leader was provided in quarterback Dick Watson, whose passing was the spearhead of the Belmont offense. Ralph Pecora and Co-Captain Wickie Walsh at halfback constantly crashed through the opponents' defense, and Gordon Fitch at fullback was always a ready threat.

In the line, ends Bellis and Crotty were reliable pass catchers and defensive king pins. Tackles, Phil Gogan, with his life saving kicks, and hulky Co-Captain Charles Pappas, were the backbone of the line. Accurate center Wally Nelson and scrappy Franny Coyle were both stellar on both defense and offense.

Emmett Atwater's performance in the Norwood game won't soon be forgotten, and Jack McDougall's aggressiveness was invaluable in the line. McDougall and Atwater were elected next year's Co-Captains and should start the 1950 squad off on the right foot.

FIRST ROW: C. Parsons, M. Ciolo, H. Mercer, A. Hodder, T. McCormick, W. Cox, R. Norris.

UNDER their new coach, Carlton Seaman, the Belmont harriers had a fairly successful season. By hustling they won two, but lost four dual meets. They finished fourth in the Divisional, seventh in the Middlesex League, and eighth in the State meet.

By far the outstanding man on the team was Captain Hubie Maguire, who won three dual meets and finished seventh in the Divisional, second in the League, fourth in the State, and sixteenth in the New England meet. Supporting him were Joe Faulkner, Dick Willander, Dan Pennachio, John Harman, Henry Kerr, and Stewart Hussey. Next year's team, with four returning lettermen and many holdovers from the Jayvee squad, should be stronger. Henry Kerr and Stewart Hussey have been elected co-captains.

Belmont was again host to the annual Middlesex League banquet.

Boys' Tennis Team

WITH a number of experienced and tournament-tested hold-overs from last year's champion squad, Coach "Pop" Nagle's 1950 tennis team exerted in competition some excellent tennis ability and court strategy against rival players. Our team again was among the top schools in the Middlesex League, annually dominated by Belmont.

Spearheaded during the season by Captain Dick Watson, who carried on from his superlative actions in football and basketball as number one singles man, the team played an inspired brand of tennis with private schools like Andover and Middlesex as well as league schools. The first team included such standout seniors as Ray Russell, Fred Paulsen, John Comerford, and two coming juniors, Schatzki and Pierce.

When the final results of the Eastern Massachusetts tennis tournament are disclosed, we expect a player from B.H.S., wielding a formidable racket, will bring home the championship to climax an overly successful season on the part of the tennis team.

The Golf Team

PLAYERS at B.H.S. participating in such a recreational sport as golf in the spring, not only entered and competed in many close and highly-competitive matches, but also spent many an enjoyable afternoon on the Fresh Pond Golf Course. Belmont's chief rival was Lexington, and the leading players of the two teams fought it out on their respective links for the championship in the golf league consisting of Arlington, Cambridge Latin, and Rindge Tech.

The boys demonstrating the longest drives off the tee and the most accurate approach shots were such esteemed amateurs as Bob Moynihan, Bill Corey, Bill Williams, Roger DiNapoli, and Bob Elwell. Mario Celi was one of the promising juniors, who should be the star in '51. The team gained help from Gerry McKearin also, a converted tennis letterman.

This Year's B.H.S. golf squad, combining pleasure with competitive play, spent a very profitable season under the direction of Coach Cowing. Here is one sport that can be followed indefinitely, even though graduation breaks up the team.

The Hockey Team

NOBODY had hope of ruling the league in 1950, so we were braced for what happened. Although every game was lost, Belmont was not a soft touch. Spirit and a never-say-die attitude forced opponents to earn their victories. Jack McDougall upheld the scoring column for the first two thirds of the season. Scoring in the last third was dominated by Roy Keefe and Tom Sheehy. In at least four games the defense was outstanding, boding well for next year. This year the accent was on youth. The starting line-up of Jack McDougall, Roy Keefe, Tom Sheehy, Bob Busa, Mal Daly, and Eddie Kerr will return to lead next year's outfit. The Class of '50 was represented by Richard Regan, Francis Regan, Bob MacMillan, Gordon Gilson, Wickie Walsh, and Joe Crotty. The seniors were often the only remaining strength on the team when the going was roughest. Better luck another year!

The Soccer Team

IN the won and lost department, Belmont's soccer squad ended their season with a record of 2-3-4. Even though this is not too impressive, the B.H.S. team was not surpassed for over-all school spirit and aggressiveness.

Highlights of the long and bitterly-contested season were a victory over rival Watertown and ties with the powerful and overly-confident Governor Dummer and Medford elevens.

Captain Charles Crisafulli spearheaded the team's attack from his center-half-back position. Other 60 minute standouts were Jerry Gerace, outside left, who seemed to have no end of endurance, John Caruso, center forward, who was one of the team's high scorers and John Carmichael, inside right, who saved more than one game from the clutches of the opposition with last-minute goals.

MISS CLEARY did a superb coaching job this year, and she must be very proud of her two teams, especially of players like Captain Elinor Quinn, Captain Cynthia Sylvia, Evelyn Stella, and Ann Lynch all of whom swished that ball into the basket like professionals. We must not forget the guards of the Varsity team who turned in an outstanding performance: Joan Engewald, Kathryn Shohl, Mary Keane, Shirley Glazier and Jeannette Travelo. Nice work, girls.

Our Junior Varsity, captained by Betty Dunbar and Paula Swaebe, should have been called the Sophomore Junior Varsity team. Forwards were Betty Dunbar, Geneva Osborn, Geneva Grimes, Patricia Sullivan, Beryl Bryant, and Bonny Moran. The guards were Paula Swaebe, Ann Canfield, Jane McGonagle, Marylee Boyle, and Franny Heron.

Although the team cannot boast of an undefeated season, they can all be proud of the fact that their spirit and fine sportsmanship was the highlight of every game.

Girls' Softball Team

MISS CLEARY was very proud of her team this year because they had an unusually successful season against Arlington, Melrose, Lexington, Concord, Winchester and Malden. Experience and confidence were the main factors in bringing victory to the school. Veterans from last year were Elinor Quinn, a classy shortstop; Captain Joan Engewald, who did very well at third base; Evelyn Stella, our star second baseman who shared her duties with former Pitcher Lois Marsh and Lorraine Beard, a terrific curve ball artist who will be back again next year. Other members of the team were Paula Swaebe, Teresa Fasciano, Shirley Gazier, Janet Geggis, Ann Canfield, Ronny Moran, Joan Larsen, Claire Palmer, and Dolores Butt.

Congratulations to Miss Cleary and her team for showing such fine sportsmanship and spirit throughout the season.

Girls' Field Hockey

THIS year's field hockey team, coached by Miss Cleary and led by Captain Elinor Quinn, had rather a disastrous season, winning two, losing three, and tying one game.

After winning their first two away games, the girls dropped three home games to the powerful Lexington, Winchester, and Malden clubs who seemed to have that extra push to get the ball into the cage.

Held over from last year's undefeated team were Captain Quinn, forward, Joan Engewald, forward, and Glenn MacKenzie, defenseman were C. Napoli, J. Giacalone, S. Glazier, P. Swaebe, J. Wallis, J. Perry, K. Shohl, L. Levis, C. Macdonald, and J. Linn.

The J. V.'s did very well this year and with the material Miss Cleary has to work with, we are sure the 1950 field hockey team will have a very successful year.

ALTHOUGH severely handicapped by the loss of many stars from last year's championship squad, this season's track team was no exception to the long record of winning teams produced by Coach Wenner at Belmont High. At the State meet in May, Belmont still looked great in a losing cause.

The team had two able co-captains in Hubert Maguire and Charles Crisafulli, Maguire, who did considerable indoor running during the winter, was by far one of the foremost milers in the State. Versatile Crisafulli was equally adept in the 220, high jump, and relay. A winning combination of Ralph Johnson and Whitney Walsh participated in the broad jump, 220, and relay. Pete Ferrini, who set a new record in last year's state meet, continued his fine work in the hurdles. Millard Stevens, a 440 veteran, also participated in the shot-put. Gordon Fitch filled the bill in the 100 yard dash and also completed the relay team.
